For more than 10 years, FLOR DO MAR has designed and created beautiful, sustainable, handmade jewelry and decorative objects made from fish scales, for supply to retailers in Brazil and worldwide.

FLOR DO MAR designs are created by Brazilian artisan Cleide Cunha, and produced as part of a social service project that she also oversees, which trains local women in the underserved coastal communities of the Brazilian state of Pernambuco to become expert craftspeople, providing these women with a stable additional income with no environmental impact. This triple focus on artistic aesthetics, social responsibility and environmental balance has enabled FLOR DO MAR to grow steadily since its founding.

FLOR DO MAR products are made from fish scales, which are treated with a proprietary process that removes any odor or residues without altering the scales' natural characteristics of flexibility and durability.

Therefore, do not worry! In spite of how delicate the decorative objects and jewelry seem, rest assured that all FLOR DO MAR products are durable and can be washed in running water.
